

Solution Of Indian Crisis Is Urged By Noted Scribe

(Editor's Note: With the Indian controversy at white heat, The Gettysburg Times today presents the first of ten articles on the situation by its noted war analyst Dewitt Mackenzie, just returned from a five months' tour of most of the war zones. During the last six weeks, Mr. Mackenzie has been in India making an intensive study of the developments there. He has been a close student of Indian affairs since 1916 and you will find this series one of the most informative, as well as the timeliest, you have read in a long while.)

By DEWITT MACKENZIE The Associated Press

There are five hundred orthodox ways of committing suicide, and then there is the five hundred and first method, which is for the outsider to project himself into the violent controversy growing out of the Indian Nationalist demand for purna swaraj—absolute independence from England.

Intrusion in family quarrels is at best a dangerous experiment, and the British-Indian imbroglio is the most volcanic of our time. In undertaking to expose the skeleton in the closet, therefore, I am proceeding with the full knowledge that I am likely to incur the displeasure and censure of both my British and my Indian friends.

Makes Full Survey

When I left home on the thirty-five thousand mile aerial swing which was to include India, I had no intention of writing in detail on this situation. It wasn't a sleeping dog, but it seemed best to let it lie.

Having made an exhaustive study on the ground, however, I'm forced to the conclusion that I should be derelict if I didn't render a full report.

This conclusion is based on the knowledge that the great British-Indian problem has ceased to be a family affair. It was developed into a matter of vital and urgent importance to the cause of the United Nations.

Right here I want to pay tribute to the kindly aid given me by both sides during my research. I crisscrossed the mighty reaches of India, talking with British officials here and with the great Indian leaders there. Nowhere did I encounter anything but fine cooperation.

Aided By Viceroy

One memorable conversation I had was with the viceroy, Lord Linlithgow, who is one of Britain's outstanding personalities. I gave my bond that no word of his should be quoted. However, I can say that he was most helpful.

I will admit now that I hurled Nationalist anti-British charges at him until by good rights he should have called the guard and had me thrown out. Yet he continued to answer me after his blunt fashion, and when the time of my audience was up he voluntarily extended it twenty minutes despite the fact that his council was waiting for him to appear.

Then when I had concluded my study in India, I walked into the office of the censor at New Delhi and laid down perhaps 150,000 words of notes and printed material upon which I intended to base these articles. I asked that this be censored and sealed so that I might take it home with me.

2 Sentences Deleted

Believe me there were some notes there which would make any censor's hair curl, and yet the only thing deleted was two sentences, and this was done after the censor had asked my permission.

Having made sweeping assertions regarding the vital importance of the Indian crisis, and the urgency of settling it in the immediate future, my next duty is to state the premises for such conclusions. Shorn of details they are these:

1. India not only is the arsenal of the Orient, but strategically it is one of the most essential of all the Allied military bases.

This huge subcontinent is the wedge which has divided the Axis from the Japs.

Strategic Base

It is one of the major bases, may be the major base, for initial Allied operations against the Japs when Hitler has been rendered impotent.

It is from India that the Allies will swing a mighty battering ram across the Bay of Bengal against Japanese occupied Burma.

That back-door to China must be reopened so that supplies may pour through it for the annihilation of the Japanese on the continent.

2. Post-war security for the ideals of the Atlantic charter makes it imperative that this strategically located India should be a unified member of the United Nations.

India must be a protector against potential enemies of the Allied peace. More than that she must be the shock-absorber if rifts by any chance should appear in the Allied structure in the Orient.

3. As to the urgency of a settlement of the Indian differences there can be no question. The way I see it there are three cogent reasons for haste:

Bombings, Sabotage

First, India is a House divided (Please Turn to Page 2)

Ration Allowance Is 3 Cans Per Person In March; Get New Book

Adams county school teachers meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the court house to receive instructions and supplies for the registration of Adams countians and the issuance of War Ration Book Two to be conducted in school houses throughout the county beginning Tuesday morning and ending Friday evening.

Householders must fill out the consumer's declaration (appearing on page four) and present it when calling for the new ration book.

Gettysburg householders are to be allowed less than half of the canned fruits and vegetables they have been in the habit of eating under a "scant ration" program starting next Monday.

3 Cans a Month
The March allowance announced by the Office of Price Administration Sunday night provides, on an average for only about three cans per person for the month.

Price Administrator Prentiss Brown estimated the civilian supply from March 1 to September, 1944, would average a little more than 13,000,000 cases a month compared with 30,000,000 in 1941-42.

This week all families must live on the canned goods they have, and next week, when sales are resumed, they take a new kind of ration book to the store.

Everyone has 48 points to "spend" in March, and families may pool their points. It will take, for example, 14 points to buy a standard size can of corn or green beans; 16 for peas or tomatoes; 21 for peaches—or pears; 10 for grapefruit; 23 for grapefruit juice; 32 for large cans of tomato or pineapple juice; 6 for soup; 1 for baby food; about 13 points a pound for frozen fruits or vegetables.

Feed Fighting Forces

Administrator Brown himself acknowledged that it is a "scant ration," but said people will get along on it "so that our fighting forces and the fighting forces of our Allies may have the food they need to carry on."

Besides thumbing cookbooks in search of fresh vegetables receipts this week, every family must send an adult representative to register for the new ration books.

The blue coupons in the book are for canned goods; the red ones will be used later for meat. A, B, and C blue coupons may be "spent" in March. The figures—1, 2, 5, or 8—are the point values. Thus two 8-point, or any other combination of stamps adding up to 16 will "buy" a can of peas.

April's ration will become usable on March 25 in conjunction with any March stamps left. This one-week overlap will prevent people from being stuck with a small number of points which can't buy anything.

CAR CRASHES INTO TRAIN; DRIVER HURT

Cassian Andrews, 25, of Biglerville, had a narrow escape from possible death at 6:50 o'clock this morning when his automobile crashed into a Western Maryland locomotive at the Carlisle street crossing.

He is in the Warner hospital suffering from lacerations above the left eye and left forearm.

Andrews told Chief of Police Glenn Guise at the hospital that he was traveling south on Carlisle street and did not hear a train whistle or a train bell and that no flagman was on duty at the crossing at the time. He said he did not see the train until it was too late to avoid the collision.

Says Car Hit Train

R. W. Knisley, of Hagerstown, a traveling fireman aboard the locomotive, told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times, that Andrews crashed into the locomotive. He said the locomotive was traveling six miles an hour at the time and had passed the center of the crossing when Andrews' car crashed into it. Knisley said that Engleman Paul P. Pearce, of Hagerstown, stopped the engine with the rear end resting on the track opposite the front end of Andrews' car. Knisley said no flagman was on duty at that hour this morning. He said the train was traveling west at the time of the accident.

The front end of Andrews' car was badly damaged. The left front was caved in and eggs in the back of the car were scrambled about all over the inside, even splashing onto the windshield. Andrews' automobile radio was tuned in and operating after he was removed from the car and taken to the hospital by Russell Howard, who approached the scene shortly after the mishap.

One Eye-Witness

William Gastley said he witnessed the accident. He said that Andrews ran into the locomotive, that the engine was more than half way across the crossing when the crash occurred.

Andrews is manager of the Emmitsburg branch of the Blue Bell farms, of Newark, New Jersey. He was enroute to Emmitsburg at the time of the mishap.

A. J. Jankey, of Hagerstown, was fireman aboard the locomotive.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

Clark Kawakami was born near Chicago 33 years ago... a son of an American mother and a Japanese father, Karl Kiyoshi Kawakami. After finishing grade and high schools Clark graduated in International law from Harvard, a classmate of James Roosevelt, son of the President and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Nursing a flare for newspaper work, inherited from his father, Clark went to Tokyo in 1933 and became a correspondent for Ringo, later Domei, internationally known Japanese news agency.

Clark fell in love with a Japanese girl and about that time he was transferred to the London bureau of Domei. In June of 1940 Clark got an assignment to Domei's Washington bureau.

In August, 1941, Clark persuaded his bride-to-be to come to the States and Clark Kawakami and Chieko Takehisa, Japanese movie actress, were married.

Clark enjoyed life with his young and pretty wife. She enjoyed American customs and parties and created quite a "flash" when, with her husband, attended the President's reception to the newspapermen of Washington dressed in Oriental costume.

Then came December 7th... JAPAN ATTACKS PEARL HARBOR.

All the glitter and glamour of Washington life faded for Chieko Takehisa Kawakami. Her name (Please Turn to Page 4)

Wife Asks Accounting Of $30,000 Joint Account

Alleging that her husband, Ralph E. Arnold, now employed by the government at Washington, D. C., drew out all of the sums—totaling more than $30,000—they had in three joint bank accounts soon after they separated in 1941, Mrs. M. Luella Arnold, Biglerville, filed a plaintiff's bill in equity in court here Saturday afternoon asking that her husband file an account and be directed to pay over to her any amounts found to be due her.

The plaintiff's bill, filed late Saturday afternoon by Franklin R. Bigham, Esq., as associate counsel for Mrs. Arnold, states that the Arnolds have not lived together as husband and wife since July 15, 1941, and that since that date he has not contributed "in any way" toward his wife's support.

It is further stated that on July 17, 1941, the couple had on deposit in a checking account in the Littleton National bank the sum of $24,519.96; on July 18 of that year they had $557.59 on a checking account in the Biglerville National bank, and on August 18, 1941, had $6,120.60 in a savings account in the Littleton National bank. All of the accounts were entered in the names of R. E. and Luella Arnold, it is alleged.

Adams County Asked To Collect 1500 Tons Of Iron And Steel In Two Months To Build Destroyers

Harrisburg, Feb. 22 (AP)—The state Council of Defense today asked Pennsylvanians to collect 376,000 tons of scrap iron and steel in March and April—enough to build 131 war ships.

Warren R. Roberts, chairman of the council's state salvage committee, said the War Production board had assigned that quota to the 1,294 local salvage committees and that automobile graveyards, industrial drives and special projects are expected to produce the rest of the first half of 1943.

Noting that 17,500 tons of scrap are needed to build a 35,000 ton battleship, 10,000 tons for an aircraft carrier, 5,000 for a heavy cruiser, 3,750 tons for a light cruiser and 500 tons for a destroyer, the salvage committee assigned the following county quotas:

Four battleships—Philadelphia. Three battleships—Allegheny. One battleship—Luzerne. Aircraft carriers (one each)—

CHAIRMAN LISTS "Desert Fox" COMMITTEE FOR WAR FUND DRIVE Captures Gap Of Kasserine

Robert E. Berkheimer, chairman of the business division of the Red Cross War Fund drive, announced today the members of his committee which will contact the 250 business places in Gettysburg in the drive for $18,700.

This committee will not solicit individual contributions or donations from industrial groups to the War Fund. Chairman Berkheimer has asked that business places in Gettysburg predetermine their subscription in order to help the work of his committee of local business men. He also stressed the fact that there will be only one Red Cross drive this year, eliminating the usual Roll Call membership.

More R. C. Services

With the widening of America's world battlefronts the Red Cross has been called upon for more services for the armed forces and a consequent increase in need for funds. The last county war fund drive for $13,000 went "over the top" and local Red Cross officials have expressed a desire for a larger response from countians this year.

Members of Mr. Berkheimer's committee include John Fox, Richard E. Codori, Elmer W. Warren, Robert P. Snyder, Miss Ella King, Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, Samuel G. Soltenberger, Edgar Moser, Robert A. Codori, Arthur Buehler, John H. Basehore, Milton J. Bender, W. Preston Hull, Charles Weaver, Roy W. Wentz, Harold Wentz, Sydney J. Poppay, Kenneth Johns, Hugh C. McIlhenny, George R. Martin, Keith Burger, Harold Reuning, Miss Mary Ramer, Lee M. Hartman, James S. Shenk, Edward V. Trimmer, C. Arthur Brame and Dr. J. Walter Coleman.

Property Transfers

J. Donald Dillman and M. Evelyn Dillman, Gettysburg, sold to John A. and Effie Weaver, Cumberland township, a lot at Grandview Terrace.

John and Marie T. Saffer sold to Roscoe A. and Elizabeth M. Shindecker, a three-acre property in Freedom township.

STATEMENT OF DAMAGE ACTION CLAIMS FILED

A statement of claim in a damage action by five local residents against John Costello, Wilkes-Barre, is a result of an automobile accident on March 21 of last year just south of York Springs on the Gettysburg-Harrisburg highway.

The plaintiffs are Edward Swope and Mrs. Evelyn Swope Neely, 138 Carlisle street; Mrs. Esther Hayberger, West High street; Mrs. Bertha Culp, Franklin and Chambersburg streets, and Frank Slonaker, Breckenridge street.

In the statement of claim placed on file this morning in the office of Prothonotary Lee M. Hartman at the court house by J. Francis Yake, Esq., counsel for the plaintiffs, it is set forth that Mr. Swope is the owner of a car operated by Mrs. Neely with Mrs. Hayberger, Mrs. Culp and Mr. Slonaker as passengers when the accident in question occurred.

Autos Collide

Mrs. Neely was driving toward Gettysburg, enroute home from Harrisburg, when her car collided with that of Mr. Costello as the latter drove north; Costello is charged with negligence and held responsible for the mishap in the statement placed on record today.

Mr. Swope is suing to recover damages to his car. The three women ask varying sums for actual expenses, pain and suffering, future medical expense and other items, while Mr. Slonaker asks a total of $9 for damage to clothing he was wearing.

A summons has been issued by the prothonotary and the defendant will have 15 days from the date the summons is served upon him to file an affidavit of defense.

Good Evening
One way to evade food rationing is to join the armed forces.

"Desert Fox" Captures Gap Of Kasserine

By CARL C. CRANMER Associated Press War Editor

Marshal Erwin Rommel's large tank forces, increasingly menacing the entire Allied foothold in northern Tunisia, has driven another 12 miles to the north in continued heavy fighting against American and British forces after capturing the gap of Kasserine on the central front, dispatches from Allied headquarters in North Africa reported today.

The German marshal thrust to within eight miles of Thala, a little less than 90 miles south of the Mediterranean coast.

This drive indicated that Rommel was turning his forces northward in an effort to cut Allied communication and force their withdrawal from their positions where they had established themselves before Tunis and Bizerte.

Repulse 2 Thrusts

Although Rommel scored another success in his dash northward through the hills from Kasserine Pass, he was turned back in two other jobs to the northeast in the direction of Sbilha, the dispatches from North Africa said.

An earlier communique from Allied headquarters also said Rommel had been repulsed in a strong attack westward from Kasserine toward Tebessa in Algeria, in the Sbilha area and farther to the northeast in the Medjez-El-Bab zone.

Heavy casualties and tank losses were suffered by the Germans at the hands of the British and Americans in violent fighting, it was reported, and the Germans were said to have lost 14 of their tanks in storming toward Thala last night.

70-Tank Spearhead

Rommel continued, however, with a spearhead of more than 70 tanks.

Apparently Rommel was determined to pursue his offensive in central Tunisia with the objective of gaining plenty of fighting room in the north, regardless of the territory he might be forced to sacrifice in the south.

The British Eighth Army of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery was in possession of Medenine, one of the strongest outposts of Rommel's Mareth line and within 40 miles of Gabes, one of his most important southeastern ports.

While the Red Army prepared to celebrate its 25th anniversary tomorrow, it reported continued successes which swept it to within 34 miles or less of the Dnieper river.

After capturing Pavlograd and Krasnograd, major rail junctions southwest of Kharkov, the Russians were threatening a series of outposts of the Dnieper which apparently had been selected by the Germans as their next important line of defense in southern Russia after the breaching of their old 1941-42 winter line of Orel, Kursk and Kharkov.

Near Power Dam

A 40 mile drive would take them to Poltava, railway center on the way to Kiev, 180 miles farther on. The Russians were only 34 miles from the power dam site of Dnieper-opetromsk on the Dnieper.

Official Table Of Point Values On Page Three

The Gettysburg Times today publishes, on Page Three, the "Official Table of Point Values for Processed Foods" at the special request of the Office of Price Administration.

The new point system of food rationing becomes effective March 1st.

It is suggested that households preserve the full page table which can be used as a guide in the purchase of rationed foods. Use of the table will simplify and expedite purchasing problems under the point ration system.

The "Consumer's Declaration" which householders must fill out to secure ration book 2 is also reprinted today, on Page Four, at the request of the government.

170 WILL GIVE BLOOD THURSDAY

One hundred and seventy notices to save a life" here on Thursday by giving one pint of blood each to the Red Cross on the second month-...
A continuous schedule of appointments has been set up for donors to report from 9:45 a. m. to about 4:30 p. m. Persons who gave blood in January will not be permitted to repeat their donations until March or April.
Townpeople, college and seminary students who have signed releases from their parents and residents of many sections of the county are included on the donors' list for this week.
With growing needs for blood
plasma for the Army and Navy, countians are urged to register as volunteer donors for future visits to Gettysburg of the blood donor service unit. Registrations are being received at Lippy's store on Chambersburg street and at the Red Cross office in the court house.

Solution Of

against itself. While the authorities assured me they had things well in hand, they also said there was a continuance of the disturbances which stemmed from the collapse of the Cripps negotiations last summer. There have been bombings and sabotage of various sorts, with casualties among both police and civilians.
Without unity in this stronghold,
the Allies must approach the coming offensive against Japan with great uneasiness. The wheels of the arsenal must turn more slowly if at all, and the coming offensive will suffer in striking power.
Secondly, this land where the great majority of the some 400,000-000 people always are hungry is up against an unusual food shortage.
This is likely to come to a head in March or April, which is between crop seasons and, therefore, the period of greatest shortage.
Food and Politics
Many observers in India regard this situation as even more serious than the political quarrel. They envision food riots should the government's program of relief fail to function.
The greatest anxiety, however,
relates to the possibility of the food and political situations combining to provide fuel for a conflagration which it might be hard to stop. I shall deal more fully with this food problem in a subsequent article.
Third, Mohandas Gandhi's hunger strike has injected a new and highly dangerous element into the controversy. There is grave danger that he will die, for he is 73 years old and his 90 pounds of skin and bones have been so tortured with previous strikes that he lacks the stamina to stand much more.

Worship Gandhi
Should Gandhi pass out under such circumstances the effects might easily be catastrophic. You have to know your India to realize how great an influence is wielded by this diminutive ascetic who, right or wrong, certainly is one of the outstanding leaders of his time.
Unnumbered hosts worship him as a saint. He has to battle to keep some of his followers from pro-strating themselves and kissing his feet.
Only actual experience of the event can demonstrate how serious Gandhi's death might be. There can be small doubt that it might present a great threat to the security of state.

U.S. Sub Is Sunk; Japs Pay Dearly

Pearl Harbor, Feb. 22 (AP)— America's largest submarine, the 2,710-ton Argonaut, has been sunk in action in the south Pacific with a companion submarine exacted swift vengeance by sinking two of ing.

Ration Allowance

the list, from a rationing standpoint, is canned sauerkraut, but there is hardly any of that on the market.
There is plenty of bulk sauerkraut,
which is not rationed.

The table of point values will be posted in all grocery stores, and the point values will be marked on each can or shelf in the store, but housewives will want to clip the point table on Page 3 in order to figure out their food budgets.

The table covers all canned or frozen fruits or vegetables, dried fruit, canned soup or baby food. To be added to it in a few days will be the point values of dried beans, peas and lentils, which were frozen without warning Saturday night, but which do not have to be declared when applying for the new ration books.

The list does not cover canned meat or fish, which will be rationed with meat, probably at the end of March.

Change County Hours

Stating that a checkup had indicated that afternoon and evening hours will not be sufficient to handle all registrations in some school districts in the county, the county superintendent's office announced this morning that Wednesday, Thursday and Friday morning registration hours will be determined by announcement by local school district authorities throughout the county.

The registration—in the schools
outside of Gettysburg—will start Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock instead of 1:30 p. m. and will continue to 5 p. m. Other afternoons the hours will run from 1 to 5 p. m. with schools equipped with electric lights also opening for registration from 7 to 8:30 p. m.

GANDHI GROWS WEAKER IN HIS FREEDOM FAST

New Delhi, Feb. 22 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi weathered a crisis yesterday in the 12th day of his 21-day fast and today, a government bulletin issued in Bombay said, he appeared more comfortable and more cheerful. His heart, however, was weaker.

The report signed by six doctors, said the frail Hindu ascetic entered the crisis at 4 p. m. yesterday.

"He was seized with severe nausea and almost fainted and his pulse became nearly imperceptible," it said.

But later he took water and lime juice, rallied and slept well into the night.

May not Survive

The communique followed an announcement yesterday that if the frail little Indian Nationalist leader persisted in the fast at his detention quarters in the Poona palace of the Aga Khan it might cost him his life.

Appeals continued to pour in from all parts of India, meanwhile, for the release of Gandhi, who has been under detention since last August when his All-India Congress party began a civil disobedience campaign against British rule. He began his fast in protest against the refusal of the viceroy, Lord Linlithgow, to release him unconditionally.

A conference of Indian political leaders assembled in New Delhi yesterday and cabled Prime Minister Churchill asking Gandhi's release.

Could End Fast

There was no hint, however, of any change in the position taken by the government. One spokesman pointed out yesterday that while great pressure is being brought to bear, "practically no one has taken the obvious course of suggesting that Gandhi himself is equally able to save his own life by ending the fast."

An 86-page white book was issued by the government of India today, apparently designed to fasten responsibility upon Gandhi and the India Congress for the violence which occurred when Gandhi was arrested last August 9.

The white paper concluded:

"Pious Hope"

"When it has been realized that Mr. Gandhi, the fountainhead of non-violence, knew perfectly well that the Indian masses were incapable of non-violence, new light is shed on events of the six months which have elapsed since his August arrest.

"It follows that every reference to non-violence in forecasts of the forms the movement would take, made by Mr. Gandhi and his Congress disciples and in post-arrest programs and instructions, is nothing more than a pious hope, or at best a mild warning which was known to have no practical value."

THREE ESCAPE BRADFORD JAIL

Towanda, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—A search for three prisoners who escaped last night from the Bradford county jail after attacking a deputy sheriff turned toward New York state today.

Deputy Sheriff William Chaffee, who was struck by one of the prisoners, said Elmira, New York, police had been asked to help because one of the trio, Robert Evans, formerly resided there and police believed the men might seek refuge across the state line.

The other fugitives were identified as Harold and Benjamin Vanderpool, both of Towanda. Evans' address was listed as Sayre, Pa. All were being held for trial at the May term of court on larceny charges.

Chaffee said Harold Vanderpool asked permission to telephone his father about 8 o'clock last night and as he was being returned to the cell, struck Chaffee in the face. The other two stampeded through the open door of their cell, knocking down Mrs. Chaffee who was standing in the hallway.

They ran out the door, hatless and coatless.

Fifteen other prisoners in the jail made no attempt to escape.

Labor-Management Groups Do Good

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 (AP)—Wendell Lund, director of the War Production Board's labor production division, says labor-management committees "have done much good not only in increasing production but in solving the problems of health, housing and transportation—the fundamental problems in absenteeism."

Lund came here from Washington yesterday to address 580 representatives of steel companies and the CIO-United Steelworkers of America meeting to devise ways of spurring the production of steel.

He expressed regret about "talk coming from strange lips" of inducting into the armed forces workers absent from the jobs.

Philip Clowes, his assistant, said that the impression of many people that absenteeism is wholly the workers' fault is erroneous.

INSTRUCTIONS.—To find the Point Value of an item:

1. Find out the net weight of the contents (from the label, if any).
  2. In the line across the top of the chart, showing the weight in ounces and pounds, find the column in which this weight belongs.
  3. Find the item in the listing of items in the column to the left.
  4. The POINT VALUE of the item appears on the same line as the item and in the column listing the correct weight.
- All Point Values must be determined by weights. If no weight is marked on the item, the item must be weighed.
- In finding the Point Value of a container where contents are given in fluid ounces, consider the fluid ounce to be the same as the avoirdupois weight ounce. One pint is one pound; one quart is two pounds.

The Point Value of any item weighing over four (4) pounds shall be arrived at by multiplying the number of pounds of that item by the Point Value per pound of that item as given in the "Per Pound" column. Fractions of a pound should be figured in quarter-pounds. Fractions of a quarter-pound should be figured to the next higher quarter-pound. Thus, an item weighing 4 pounds 9 ounces would be considered as weighing 4 pounds 12 ounces for the purpose of getting the Point Value of the item.

Just Folks

OLD GLORY

Now round about the world it flies
On all the seven mighty seas,
At home and the antipodes,
In all the lands and all the skies.No spot so desolate and bare,
No jungle nor desert space,
In all the earth no distant place
But what our Starry Flag is there!And when the world is safe for men,
When peace and order are restored
And broken is the tyrant's sword,
Old Glory will come home again.

THE WILLING AND BRAVE

There seems to be no end to fortitude, wherever it is back-grounded by a willing spirit. A letter came to me from a young girl who had just gone through two major operations, and she wrote me that "one more, and I will be a well girl!" The instances of this willing and brave spirit on the part of mere boys, in this tragic war for freedom, are so numerous that it would take a great library to record them all. I recently came across the copy of a letter that W. E. Henley once wrote to Sir J. M. Barrie, and this is what he said:

"I was a patient in the old infirmary of Edinburgh. I had heard vaguely of Lister, and went there as a sort of forlorn hope, on the chance of saving my foot. The great surgeon received me, as he did and does everybody, with the greatest kindness, and for twenty months I lay in one or another ward of the old place under his care. It was desperate business, but he saved my foot—and here I am!" I quote this letter, for it was while the poet was in this hospital—under constant pain and speculation, as to whether he would lose his foot or not, that he wrote that great and inspiring poem "Invictus," in which he spoke of being the "Master" of his fate, and the "Captain" of his soul.

The runner soon discovers that he can go only so far on his ordinary breathing scope. Soon he must command his "second breath," and from then on do just a little more than his former best. We are all the time learning that our best is not enough—that we must do better. And when our mind is set upon this task, we do better.

Our physical bravery runs its course only to be supplanted by that higher, or "second breath" bravery—that hidden, silent, mysterious spiritual bravery, without which no great task in life can adequately become victorious. A man's genuine salvation does not start until he has done more than people expected of him—and even more than he ever expected of himself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Extra—And Extras."

News Photographer Is Burned To Death

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Clay Convention: The county committee, appointed at the meeting of the friends of Henry Clay, in August, having found, by the action of their friends in other counties, that the convention to be held in Harrisburg, on the 22d inst., is not confined to a regular delegation, hereby invite all of the friends of that distinguished statesman in Adams county, who can make it convenient, to attend at Harrisburg on the 22d.

The Death of the Warrior: The death of such a man as Commodore Hull is an event calculated to excite sensations of sincere sorrow and sympathy among and with his surviving friends.

The news of his death revives all the sensations of joy and gratitude which thirty years and more ago, were wont to fill the breast of every American when ever and wherever the name of Isaac Hull was mentioned. The hero who first broke the spell of trans-Atlantic naval invincibility and first won for the American Navy the hold, which it has ever since maintained in the affections of the people!

Who can forget the electrical effect of the news of Hull's victory on the good ship "Constitution," over a powerful frigate of our adversary, encountered by him on his first cruise after the declaration of war!

May his ashes rest in peace, and his memory be honored by countless generations!—"National Intelligencer."

12 Lose Lives In Week-End
AUTO MISHAPS CLAIMED FOUR;
TWO DROWNED

(By The Associated Press)

Twelve persons lost their lives in accidents throughout Pennsylvania during the week-end. Auto mishaps claimed four victims, fires three, two died of gas fumes, two drowned and a man was killed by an elevated train.

John C. (Jack) Wettergreen, 37, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph News photographer, burned to death while trying to rescue his wife from their blazing home. Stanton S. Hertz, 48, vice president of Copperweld Steel company, and his daughter, Alice, 13, were found dead in their Pittsburgh home after it was swept by fire.

Killed By Train
John Stern, 47, and his son, Robert, 4, were found dead in their home near Pottstown by another son, George, 13. Coroner W. J. Rushing said they died of fumes from a coal stove in the living room.

An unidentified man was killed by an elevated train in Philadelphia. Traffic was delayed 45 minutes and hundreds of workers jammed stations. Police were unable to explain why the man was on a section of the right-of-way between stations.

Traffic victims included Edward J. McCullough, 68, Philadelphia, struck by a hit-run car at Reading; John Guzzi, 28, Dunmore, killed when his car and a bus collided near Scranton; Miss Phillis Richardson, 20, Philadelphia, fatally injured when the car in which she was riding crashed into a pole on a bridge in Philadelphia, and Clarence W. Harper, 50, Philadelphia, killed when his automobile and a street car collided.

Lamont Smith, 13, Tamaqua, drowned when an ice jam in Locust creek broke loose and knocked down a bridge on which he and a friend were standing. Kenneth Rosenberger, 8, drowned when he fell into the Allegheny river near his home at Kittanning.

GROSS VOTES TO KEEP DIES UNIT

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania's representatives during the past week supported, 19 to 11, with three not voting, the Dirksen amendment to liquidate the Home Owners' Loan corporation, and 18 to seven, with eight not voting, the $75,000 appropriation for the Dies committee to investigate un-American activities.

The Pennsylvania vote on the Dirksen amendment, which the House approved, 224 to 159, followed party lines. Walter, chairman of the state's Democratic delegation, voted with the Republicans. Wolfenden, Republican, did not vote. Others voted as follows:

Yes: Republicans Ditter, Fenton, Gallagher, Gavin, Gerlach, Gillette, Graham, Gross, Kinzer, Kunkel, Miller, Pracht, Rodgers, Scotton, Simpson, Tibbott, Troutman and Van Zandt.

No: Democrats: Bradley, Eberhart, Furlong, Hoch, Kelley, McGraney, Murphy, Scanlon, Snyder, Weiss, Wright.

Not voting: Myers (D), Sheridan (D).

The vote on the Dies committee appropriation represented a split in party lines, as was true in the vote of the House. A number of Pennsylvanians who refrained from voting had voted against continuance of the committee last week, but apparently did not wish to withhold funds from a committee approved by the House.

The vote was:
Yes: Republicans: Ditter, Fenton, Gallagher, Gavin, Gerlach, Gillette, Graham, Gross, Kinzer, Kunkel, Rodgers, Scott, Tibbott, Troutman and Van Zandt. Democrats: Hoch, Snyder and Walter.

No: Democrats: Bradley, Furlong, Kelley, Scanlon, Sheridan, Weiss, Wright.

Not voting: Eberhart (D), McGraney (D), Miller (R), Murphy (D), Myers (D), Pracht (R), Simpson (R), Wolfenden (R).

The House approved granting the appropriation, 278 to 65, with 91 not voting.

NEWS TRAVELS FAST

Philadelphia, Feb. 20 (AP)—Lieut. Eleanor T. Bauman of Philadelphia, chief of nurses at an Army hospital in New Guinea, wrote her parents: "How news travels. We were here only five hours when we started getting phone calls."

Reformed church, for $1150 cash.

A proposition to move the capital from Washington City to the Valley of the Mississippi was lost by but 20 majority last week. The movement shows great strength, on the first demonstration.

Orphan's Home: A pleasant reception took place at the National Orphans' Homestead on Saturday afternoon, the large school room being crowded with visitors. The Orphans, 60 in number, were seated on an elevated platform.

tive country had provoked war upon the country of her adoption. Her friends shunned her and life became a constant worry to her... she was sad... she felt she should return to her homeland.

Chick's young husband arranged transportation for her aboard the exchange ship for expatriated nationals and she returned to her native land. Clark has not heard from him since.

Because of Army regulations barring enlistment to those of Japanese descent Clark was denied the privilege of "fighting for America." However, a more recent ruling has partially opened the doors to him and young Kawakami says he is hopeful of being admitted to the Army Intelligence school and eventually serving Uncle Sam.

At least, that's what Clark told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times as he ate lunch at the Hotel Gettysburg this week.

Clark's father came to this country in 1900. In 1917 he returned to Tokyo and was one of the original six Socialists who attempted to organize a Communist party. One of the six is buried in the Kremlin wall in Moscow. Clark says his father abandoned his socialist leanings and prefers life in the United States to that in Japan.

The Kawakamis have two daughters. One resides with her parents in Washington. The other is married to Willard Morris and resides in Denver.

Clark says he hopes to be rejoined with his wife after the war.

PLACE MEN IN NON-DEFERABLE
CLASS IN 1-A

Harrisburg, Feb. 22 (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters, flooded with requests for information on non-deferable activities and occupations, today released a list of 35 such classifications as issued by the War Manpower Commission.

The list of designated non-deferable activities and occupations issued by the War Manpower commission will be amended and extended by it from time to time as the need for physically-qualified man increases," the state agency said.

The commission directive provides that on April 1—and not before—local boards "shall reclassify all registrants engaged in one of the non-deferable activities or occupations into 1-A, irrespective of dependency," added Col. B. V. Evans, acting Selective Service director.

Some Non-Deferables
Non-deferable occupations are: Bar cashier, bar boy, bartender, bath house attendant, beauty operator, bellboy, bootblack, bus boy, butler, chairman, cosmetician, custom tailor and furrier, dancing teacher, dishwasher.

FATHER-SON WEEK

Harrisburg, Feb. 22 (AP)—More than 50 Pennsylvania communities are holding special services in observance of father and son week. Special church services opened the week yesterday when Governor Martin, commenting that fathers and son this year "face a troubled and uncertain future," called on the fathers to "lead the way for our sons."

LEGISLATORS
FROM MARTIN

Harrisburg, Feb. 22 (AP)—Pennsylvania's legislative session swung into its eighth week today with lawmakers waiting for Governor Martin's budget message to break up marking time tactics.

The Governor, holding up the budget to obtain latest revenue estimates, announced he might deliver his fiscal recommendations to the legislature on Wednesday but also indicated there may be a delay until next week.

The chief executive has announced the budget will include a tax cut which may total around $40,000,000 and said he would ask for $335,000,000 to operate the general fund which does not take into consideration special funds for the game, fish, milk and liquor commissions. Two years ago former Governor James Budget called for $413,000,000 to operate the general fund.

$500 Million Budget
The $335,000,000 figure set by Martin indicates an over-all budget of some $500,000,000 as compared to the current total of $613,000,000.

Rep. Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, Republican floor leader, commented that he is "getting a little skeptical on the proposed April 15 adjournment date" because of the budget delay but added he is "still shooting for" the early adjournment date.

Speaker Ira T. Fiss predicted "few things would come before the house" if the budget message isn't delivered this week.

"If we get the budget, however, there will be a quick return to activity," he asserted.

The Senate has several bills ready for a vote today including a measure to enable school children to help ease farm manpower shortages and one to provide bank examinations every two years instead of annually. Another proposal which could be passed this week would waive the three-day waiting period for marriage licenses.

WAR WORKER
GETS CITATION

Washington, Feb. 22 (AP)—Walter W. Brown, 67-year-old engineer of Erie, Pa., was awarded today the "citation of individual production merit" by the war production drive, for a suggestion which saves critical material for Army searchlights.

The announcement of the Office of War Information said the citation is the highest distinction a war worker can attain, and is but the seventh one to be granted since the beginning of the war production drive.

Brown's suggestion was submitted through the labor-management committee representing the General Electric company and the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO).

The details of Brown's suggestion were not announced, but a contribution of Theodore Ralsor, a pipefitter at the General Electric company at Erie, was described as reducing the man-hours for cleaning a non-circulating machine by 60 per cent. The suggestion, for which Ralsor received a certificate of individual production merit, included redesigning the piping on a bondering machine to eliminate sediment in the nozzles.

STORY OF THE TIMES

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)—To learn what's happening nowadays, read the ads, too...

FIXED

Salt Lake City (AP)—"How's business?" a dry cleaner asked Fire Chief La Vere Hanson.

"Good," said Hanson. "There isn't any."

"Maybe we ought to drum up a little for you," the cleaner joked.

Next morning firemen extinguished a furnace-started blaze that did $300 damage to the cleaning plant.

SEEK KILLER OF
STORE MANAGER

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Feb. 22 (AP)—Police today pressed an intensive, but so far unsuccessful, search for a lone gunman who shot and killed Elmer H. Bitzer, 51-year-old chain store manager Saturday night in an apparent robbery attempt, then fled without obtaining any money.

Police Chief J. Russell Taylor said Bitzer apparently was en route to the Hanover National bank to place the week-end receipts of his store in a night depository when he was accosted. Police theorized that he refused to surrender the money.

Passersby who heard the shot arrived on the scene in time to see a man running away. Bitzer lay sprawled across the seat of his car which was parked in front of the bank.

He was pronounced dead at a hospital where $800, the store's receipts, was found in his pockets and turned over to officials of the company which employed him.

Dr. L. S. Reese, coroner, said death was instantaneous. The bullet struck near the heart, a post mortem revealed.

Police said the slaying was the first capital crime in Luzerne county since December 16, 1941.

Campus Chatter

By JIM HAFER, '44

G. Thomas Miller, son of Prof. and Mrs. George R. Miller, West street, was recently elected president of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity for the next term. He is also a member of the men's varsity debate team which will begin its annual week's tour of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Rhode Island where 11 schools will be met in debates.

Gettysburg College summer school will open on June 8 and close September 4, according to the new 1943-44 school calendar released from the office of Dean Wilbur E. Tilberg last week. The 1943-44 school year is scheduled to start September 23 and end May 29, 1944, with the annual commencement exercises. There are only two vacation periods of length listed on the new calendar, one of three weeks at Christmas and the other a one week layoff at Easter.

A. Varga, nationally known staff artist for "Esquire" magazine will act as judge in the class beauty queen contest conducted by the 1944 "Spectrum" college yearbook. He will select one queen for each class from candidates selected by the student body in a poll conducted earlier in the year.

Signing of the Townsmen, popular dance band from Baltimore, to play for both the Pan-Hellenic dance and Ivy Ball, to be held March 5 and 6 in the Eddie Plank Memorial Gymnasium was announced last week.

Approximately 125 Gettysburg College students have registered as blood donors for the Red Cross blood bank.

Donald C. Issing, a junior, was crowned "Mr. Leap Week" at a dance held in Huber Hall last Friday evening by the Women's Student Government as a part of the annual college "Leap Week" observance. Eddie Millard and his orchestra played for the dance.

In other fraternity elections conducted on the campus Robert B. Fortenbaugh, son of Prof. and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Broadway, was elected vice-president of Alpha Tau Omega, and Maurice S. Weaver was chosen corresponding secretary by Sigma Chi. Weaver is the son of Mrs. Maurice S. Weaver, Broadway.

Members of the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity voted to disband "until victory." Inability of the organization to effectively serve its purpose was given as the reason for the temporary dissolution. Prof. Donald R. Heiges, East Lincoln avenue, is the faculty advisor of the fraternity.

Because of the uncertainty of the coming college year and the number of staff members who will be in school publication of the "1943 G-Book," indoctrination hand book issued for incoming freshmen to Gettysburg college will probably be abandoned this year, Robert B. Fortenbaugh has announced.

There will probably be, however, an information booklet published for the college training detachment of aircrew students who are expected to arrive on the campus this week.

Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, college president, has announced that there will be no Douglas Short Story contest conducted this year. The contest, which annually awarded a first prize of $100 and a second prize of $50 to the two best short stories written by college students, was begun by Lloyd C. Douglas, friend of the college and prominent contemporary author and screen writer. Waning student interest in the contest and the present unsettled college conditions have been given as reasons for the cancellation of the event.

All occupants of Pennsylvania Hall, main freshman dormitory on the campus, vacated their rooms last Friday and carpenters have begun repairing, remodeling and re-fitting the building for the aircrew students who will arrive this week and will be billeted in campus dorms.

Miss Helen Baby and W. Wallace Kane have been named to the senior Ivy Day committee by Edward T. Addison, president of the senior class. Conducted each year as part of the graduation ceremonies, the Ivy Day program involves the planting of ivy from an unusual or distinctive place in the world with outstanding members of the senior class. Miss Baby is a daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Rasmus S. Baby, Carlisle street. Kane is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Kane, Arendtsville.

John E. Gentzler, Jr., who enlisted in the U. S. Naval Reserve in October, while a student at Ursinus college, has left for duty in the armored forces. He was a graduate of the East Berlin high school in 1939.

Fred Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Wolfe, of Reading township, has left his studies at Shippensburg State Teachers' college in order to answer a call into the armed forces. The young man enlisted in December. His sister, Isabelle, has returned home after visiting another sister, Helen, in Harrisburg.

Dale Kauffman, who has served his country in Panama for some time, was recently transferred to Mississippi. The young man, who made his home with the William Krout family for some years, was a visitor last during the past week.

Russell Shetter, of Carlisle, visited Monday at the home of his sister, Mrs. George Moul and family.

Charles Lighty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lighty, of near East Berlin, celebrated his fourteenth birthday Tuesday.

The sixteenth birthday of Miss Julia G. Glatfelter was celebrated Monday at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Kimmel of West King street, with whom she has made her home most of her life.

The East Berlin repair project for farm machinery has begun here with the aid of federal and state funds. Classes are held at Paul Lerew's garage, Harrisburg street, Monday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock. Anyone wishing to learn to care for machinery is urged to join the class.

Miss Mabel E. Wallace, of near town, was among those who were present at a recent meeting of the Dillsburg Women's Club when old relics were exhibited. Miss Wallace's exhibit was an old table cloth.

Earl Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobs, of York street, is reported to be now serving in the Solomons. The young man left East Berlin some years ago for Montana where he made his home until entering the service.

Problem of the WIRE CAGE

BY JOHN DICKSON CARR

Chapter 27

At ten o'clock that night, Dr. Gid-eon Fell was sitting at the desk in the study of his new home at Hampstead, patiently trying to build a cardhouse.

Every time it fell to pieces—which occurred every few minutes—he would swear in an absentminded way. Then he would make a note with a pencil, on the pad beside him, as though it were a building-specification.

And to him at shortly past ten o'clock, angry and dispirited and even less satisfied, came Superintendent Hadley.

Hadley studied the room while Dr. Fell rang for sandwiches and more beer.

"Well, Hadley?" Dr. Fell inquired significantly.

"You mean Chandler?" asked the Superintendent.

"It would be a nasty whack," said Hadley, throwing his briefcase on the piano, "if I had to admit you were right without even knowing what your blasted case is. I haven't got the ghost of a guess."

"Chandler?" interrupted the doctor, with patient insistence.

"Regarding Chandler, we've got another big miracle murder."

"Miracle? Nonsense!"

"Yes," said Hadley bitterly.

"Work that one out. All right, look at the facts."

"Again they're simple enough. Chandler was shot three times with a very small calibre weapon, probably a .22 revolver. These shots were fired from the rear of the auditorium, where it was very dark."

"If the murderer was an outsider, access would have been very easy. All the murderer had to do was walk in from the street. Every door was open. The foyer was dark. The murderer could have blazed away through curtains back of the orchestra at Chandler on a lighted stage, and walked out again. He could have done this unheard-of performance kept on cracking a whip through the show."

"Now, here's the point. The murder was definitely not committed by anybody inside the theatre, unless it was committed either by Madge Sturgess or by Brenda White. The reason is that everybody else was gathered in a kind of group close to the stage. They have a corporate alibi. They're all in a position to swear that none of them could have drawn a revolver and fired three times at Chandler, with intervals of a few seconds between the shots, without being seen."

"But Madge Sturgess and Brenda White are in nearly as good a position, as far as being cleared of suspicion goes. No weapon has been found either on them or in the auditorium; and there's no place to hide one."

"Take the Sturgess girl first. Just before the Flying Mephistos began their aerial turn, she got up from her seat towards the front and moved much further back; because (she says) she was still feeling ill and the light on the stage hurt her eyes."

But she was the first to reach Chandler's body when he fell, and she hadn't time or place to hide any weapon. Besides, she, of all people, had no motive in the world to kill Chandler."

Hadley pondered.

"As for Miss Brenda White—"

"Stop a bit," rumbled Dr. Fell, taking the cigar out of his mouth and holding it up. "You're not still chasing that particular hare, are you?"

Hadley eyed the floor. "I can't tell you," he admitted. "When I think of the baby-faced act she put on for my benefit yesterday, I could believe she was capable of anything."

"But again, look at the evidence! When the Flying Mephistos got steam up, Brenda White was afraid Chandler would fall and break his neck. She wanted to get the whip away from this crazy Westerner. She got up and went to him. He was then at the back of the house on the other side. She asked him in her most winning way for the whip. He handed it over without a murmur, and walked forward to join the corporate alibi by the stage. She went between the stalls to the center isles—passing behind Madge Sturgess, whom she says she didn't notice. The shots must have begun about then. But, when the final shot was fired, she had come forward and was standing in the aisle only a few feet behind Rowland and me. She couldn't have done it. It's out of the question."

"Well?" prompted Dr. Fell.

Hadley was exasperated. "I've just told you."

"Perhaps I do not make myself clear," said Dr. Fell. "To put the matter in more elegant language: so what? You establish that nobody in the theatre killed Arthur Chandler. So it was an outside job. Where's the miracle?"

Dr. Fell sat for a time wheezing gently, his face growing even more pink and polished under the drop-lamp.

"Hadley, this won't do. What's your evidence?"

"The only way an outside murderer could have come in," said Hadley, "was through the front entrance of the theatre which wasn't guarded. Only—he didn't."

"Why are you sure of that?"

"At three o'clock on a Sunday afternoon, that neighborhood is deserted. Across the street, on the corner of Cambridge Circus, there's a Sunday-newspaper-seller who has a pitch there. Directly across the street there's a tobacconist. Both these fellows took a great interest in the Orpheum, especially on a dull day."

"Now the theatre has been closed for a month or two. But the new turns have been rehearsing for a little while for the opening tomorrow. Most of the people employed about the theatre, and even the performers who are old hands, are known by sight. They'll come out for a breath of air, or pop round to the pub for a minute, or come across to buy cigarettes from the tobacconist. In any event, both the newspaper-seller and the tobacconist are prepared to swear that nobody —no stranger of any sort—either entered or left the theatre after two o'clock in the afternoon, with the exception of Rowland, the White girl, and myself.

"Nobody inside killed Chandler; but nobody outside did either."

"There's a flaw in it, Hadley."

"You," asked the Superintendent, "are telling me? Naturally there's a flaw in it. What I want to know is, where the hell is the flaw?"

The sandwiches and beer had arrived. Vida, the maid, put the tray patiently on a table.

Still Dr. Fell did not speak.

"All right," growled Hadley, attacking the sandwiches. "I admit Chandler may have killed Frank Dorrance and that somebody else killed Chandler. But I don't believe it. It would be stretching coincidence to the bursting point. No: these two murders are the work of one and the same person. Chandler knew too much."

"Agree without a struggle," said Dr. Fell.

"But what about these photographs? Did he get a picture of the murderer? Is that possible?"

Hadley hesitated. "I don't know. I'm afraid to hope. Betts and Morris and I went around to his home afterwards. We had a bad time with the parents, and we'd already had a bad enough time with Madge Sturgess. His father is a photographer, keeping a photographic supply-shop as a side line."

"Yes?" prompted Dr. Fell.

"It's like this. Chandler was at the tennis-court yesterday. All right: what was he doing there? What was he doing there, carrying a camera and also a large piece of white canvas like a sack? Yes, it's quite true. His father says that he left home early yesterday afternoon, taking with him a camera, two rolls of the new K Panchromatic film, and that shapeless piece of canvas."

"The canvas solves the mystery of how he carried away a load of china. But he didn't go there to cart away china, surely? He didn't go there to take photographs of a murder, certainly? It's the same point that bothered us this morning, you remember. Chandler had a peculiar sense of humor; but I can't believe anybody's sense of humor is as peculiar as that. Anyhow we found a few things among his effects. We found several more prints of photographs off the same roll he showed me this morning. All the pictures were of Brenda White or Rowland, or both. But we also found a finished, sealed roll of K Panchromatic which hasn't yet been developed."

"Wow!" said Dr. Fell. "Where is it?"

"In my brief-case. I'm taking it along to the Yard to get it developed."

Bullet Cagers Crushed By St. Joseph's Quintet 66-33

SENESKY RUNS WILD IN WORST BULLET DEFEAT

Ace sharpshooting forward of the St. Joseph's Hawks, George Senesky, rolled up 38 points to break two Convention hall scoring records as the Hawks defeated the Bullets of Gettysburg by a 66-23 score Saturday night at Philadelphia.

Gettysburg was ineffectual in both teamwork and scoring opportunities with only Gene Haas and George Dracha playing anywhere near average ball. The Bullets made good only 10 of their 47 scoring chances with Gene Haas scoring three field goals to lead the weak Gettysburg offense.

Smashes Record

Senesky sparked what otherwise would have been a rather lifeless fray as he made good 15 field goals out of 35 chances and landed eight out of 11 charity throws for an awe-inspiring total of 47 points in his last 17 games or an average of 24.5 points per game. This super-shooting wiped out the record set by Harry Boykoff of St. John's last week against Temple. Senesky's total of 15 bkecks also removed Bob Quinn's record of 12 field goals which was established last year in the Toledo-LaSalle game at Convention hall.

Coach "Hen" Bream today termed Senesky as one of the best all-around players he has ever seen. The defeat was the worst ever suffered by a Bullet team under Coach Bream.

The first half was all Senesky with St. Joseph's netting 29 points of which Senesky looped 18, to Gettysburg's 10. Gene Haas played the best defensive game for Gettysburg and was the most effective of the three men Coach Bream sent against Senesky.

21-Point Spree

During the second half St. Joe's ran up 21 points before the Battlefields were able to break the ice. Senesky scored his 31st and 32nd points on fouls with two and a half minutes left in the game. A few seconds later he scored his 13th two-pointer to erase Quinn's record and finished the game in a flourishing style by sinking two additional goals.

Cal Welliver was the only man missing from the strong Bullet aggregation that almost defeated Villanova and Aberdeen Proving Grounds earlier in the season. Saturday night's game was a complete reversal of form for the Battlefield quintet.

Plank's Final

The game was Davey Plank's last game in the livery of the Orange and Blue as he reported to the Army Air Corps Sunday morning. It is expected that George Dracha and Tony Yoviscin will leave for the Navy and Army Air Corps respectively late in this month or the early part of March.

In the second game of the Convention hall doubleheader, Temple paced by Marv "Red" Blumenthal, ex-Trenton high star, took LaSalle in a rough and tumble game to the tune of 47-43.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—Now that we're getting the details of what the big three college presidents meant in last week's statement about curtailing athletics, it seems it was just what athletic directors have been saying all along—"We'll keep athletics of some sort going as long as we can for the benefit of whatever boys are left in college." . . . The difference is that there weren't any tongues in cheeks when the presidents said it. . . . This dept. wouldn't be too surprised if the big three continues "informal" competition even after the war. . . . Yale and Harvard, especially, have been building up their intra-mural programs for some time and if they could find a way to get along without big football games they might settle for contests between their championship class and "house" teams.

SONG FOR YALE GRADS
When Harvard was old Harvard, it never had a team.

The Harvard will be Harvard still, if you get just what I mean.

They say they'll play only for fun while their country is at war.

And you can't say that's an alibi when you think of last year's score.

High in Scoring

Other scoring teams with an average above 53 points in each game are:

Maine, West Texas State, Fordham, St. John's of Brooklyn, Duke, Dartmouth, Illinois, Notre Dame and Indiana.

The defensive powerhouses are:

Detroit 415
Penn State 486
West Kentucky State 670
Kansas 681
Tennessee 532
Creighton 599
Alabama 633
Oklahoma 707

MONDAY MATINEE

Ollie Hunter's second-place two miles in 9:01.1 at the Garden State track was faster than Greg Rice even ran as an undergraduate, but when Greg turned on his sprint Ollie looked as if he was running at war speed. . . . Bill Cox, new head of the Phils, was a catcher and a cross country runner as a NYU freshman but he couldn't play at Yale because of the Big Three rule barring all transfer students from competition. . . . Billy Conn, up from Camp Lee, Va., last week, reported he's a full-grown heavy-weight now, weighing 195; but he looked as if he could stand losing a few of those pounds. . . . Big John Mahnkne and Andy Kosteka leave Georgetown's basketball team for the Army after tonight's game against St. John's in the Garden.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Alan Ward, Oakland, Calif., Tribune: "In normal times there is not sufficient GOOD ball players for league purposes. Today a war is on and that means the regular supply is reduced by half. Baseball, the young man's game, the young men are pitching for Uncle Sam."

HELP WANTED

Applying for a job with the Minneapolis club, a New Jersey kid wrote: "I am a pitcher, catcher and outfielder. I also have majored in journalism so I could report your games or be press agent. I have done considerable photography and could take any pictures you want. I am a crack swimmer, boxer, javelin thrower and am very fast in the 100-yard dash." . . . Business Manager Parke Carroll turned him down so there'd be some jobs left for the other guys on the club.

SERVICE DEPT.

Joe Ruetz, former Notre Dame guard, has resigned his commission as ensign in the Navy's physical fitness program and re-entered as a flying cadet. It took him a season of playing football and teaching judo at St. Mary's Pre-Flight School to get down to the 200-pound limit. . . . Dan Clower, Georgia athlete who led the Bainbridge Field, Ga., court team in scoring until it was disbanded because of a fuel shortage has hit 148 points for ten games in the post league. . . . The Army lists him, appropriately as a dispatcher. . . . Lieut. Pepper Constable, former Princeton fullback now a Navy doctor, insists nothing exciting happened to him during the three-day scrap for Port Lyautie in Africa but he admits: "Sometimes he had to lift a little ammunition along with the rest of the boys."

AL LOPEZ SIGNS

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 (AP)—Al Lopez, captain and first-string catcher, yesterday became the first Pittsburgh Pirate to sign up for the 1943 season. He wrote from his Tampa, Florida home that he is in good shape and all set for the opening of the club's training camp March 18 at Muncie, Indiana.

RHODE ISLAND QUINTET LEADS TEAM SCORING

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—There isn't a major unbeaten college basketball team, four quintets are traveling at better than a point-a-minute clip, Detroit university's five is the best defensive unit and Rhode Island State the most prolific scorer.

These facts were uncovered today by the National Collegiate bureau which surveyed the national basketball picture for the Office of War Information. The report has been radioed to the United States forces all over the world at the request of the Yank fighters.

The survey reveals that six of the 10 leading point-making machines are located in the east with Rhode Island State setting the pace with 81.3 points in each of its 15 games. The staters have crossed the 100-mark three times this season and have won 13 of their starts.

Best on Defense

No eastern quintet, however, is listed among the good defensive organizations which are topped by Detroit's stingy total of 27.6 points for each of its 15 opponents. That includes 38 by the fabulous whiz kids of Illinois and 34 by the Great Lakes sailors. Those two games are the only ones lost by the Titans this season.

Western Kentucky State, only school to earn a berth in both classifications, is third with 31.9, Penn State snaring second with 31.2.

The leading scoring teams and their points totals are:

Rhode Island State 1220
Wyoming 1109
West Kentucky State 1293
New York university 1016
Arizona 1244
Georgetown 1000
Toledo 1041
St. Joseph's (Philadelphia) 1021

Abandon Hope

Daily said two or three club owners had expressed a desire to go ahead "if conditions were right." He had withheld action on the 1943 season until yesterday with the hope that late developments might permit the clubs to go ahead. But neither Daily nor the club owners envisioned any let-up in wartime restrictions, including travel.

Officers of the Mid-Atlantic league were re-elected, their terms to begin as soon as the war is over. Daily was re-elected president of the Penn State association and Russell Hockembury of Scottsdale, secretary, for three year terms.

Representatives attending were J. J. Dunley, Jr., of Butler; B. H. Anderson, Oil City; George Cooper, Johnstown; H. T. Gust, Springfield; Ray Peebles, Erie; Frank Worstall, Zanesville; Roy Dever, Washington, and Oscar Barkey, Canton.

Countian Drowns While Skating

Paul G. Crouse, Jr., 30, Laurel, Delaware, formerly of Littlestown, was drowned Saturday morning when the ice broke on the pond on which he was skating with a group of friends.

A son of Mrs. Lesbia Crouse, Littlestown, and Paul G. Crouse, Sr., Florida, Mr. Crouse had been residing for two years at Laurel where he was music teacher in the schools. Prior to that he had served the same position in the Carroll county, Maryland, schools following his graduation from Catawba college in 1935.

He was well-known in musical circles, having served as director of the Hanover Junior Lyric band and he was a member of the senior band there. Mr. Crouse was a member of Redeemers Reformed church and was affiliated with Patmos lodge, No. 348, F. and A. M., Hanover. He also belonged to the Laurel Lions club.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Virginia Murray Crouse; his parents and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Stella Crouse, Littlestown.

Funeral services from the J. W. Little and Son funeral home, Littlestown, Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock with the Rev. Theodore W. Boltz, pastor of Redeemers Reformed church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. A. E. Shenberger, pastor of St. Mary's Reformed church, Silver Run, Maryland. Interment in Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown.

HIRSCHBERG IN MARINES

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 (AP)—Eddie Hirschberg, former assistant football coach at Pittsburgh, Dartmouth, West Virginia and Yale, left today for Quantico, Virginia, to begin duties as a first lieutenant in the U. S. Marines. He was captain of the Pitt Panthers' 1931 Rose Bowl Grid team.

Penn State Wins Freak Cage Game

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 (AP)—The basketball game between Penn State and Pitt at State College, Pa., Saturday goes down in Panther hardwood history as one of its standout freaks.

Realizing they would lose with ordinary tactics, because of the sliding zone defense of the powerful State five, the Panthers "froze" the ball in the first half to keep the score close. As a result, State went 19 minutes and 50 seconds without scoring a field goal and led only 5-2 at the half. Then Pitt tried numerous shots, lost possession of the ball and lost the game 32-13.

Coach H. C. Carlson said today the Panthers' strategy might have worked successfully had they frozen the ball in most of the second half as well and taken a chance on scoring enough points in the final few minutes to overcome Penn State's small lead.

SPECULATE ON NEW MANAGER FOR THE PHILS

Philadelphia, Feb. 22 (AP)—A young man from Manhattan, William D. Cox, prepared today to take charge of the National league's erstwhile "problem child"—the Philadelphia Phils—as baseball fans turned to speculating on his choice for manager of the club.

Cox, 33-year-old businessman and sportsman, heads the 11-member syndicate which will acquire full control of the Phils March 3 under terms of an agreement which he and League President Ford Frick signed Saturday.

As a starter for his new regime, Cox asserted that the expedient of selling star players for cash with which to keep the club operating is a thing of the past. "No players, at least good ones, will be sold," he said. "As for money, we can last a long, long time."

To Pick Manager

He told reporters he will name his associates later, probably this week, and may be ready then to designate Hans Lobert's successor as manager. He announced that James Hagan, veteran of 40 years with the Phils, will be retained as traveling secretary.

Lobert, it was reported, may return to the coaching box where he was a fixture before succeeding "Doc" Prothro last year. As his managerial choice, Cox has indicated preference for a man like Bill Dickey, Yankee catcher, and also has mentioned Lefty O'Doul and Pepper Martin, former major league stars, but has not indicated any actual selection. Meanwhile stove league circles listed a score of present and former stars of both major leagues as possible choices.

Frick told reporters after the agreement of sale was announced that he believes the league has "solved the Philadelphia problem." But, he added, "I don't want anyone to think the Phils will get into the World Series this year."

BIG TEN WILL USE FRESHMEN, SERVICE MEN

Chicago, Feb. 22 (AP)—The western conference today gave its freshmen athletes orders to stand by for action.

The Big Ten, in dropping its longstanding rule against the use of freshmen yesterday, also paved the way for service men who are getting schooling at member universities to play on varsity sports squads.

Starting with the spring sports program of baseball, outdoor track, tennis and golf, first-year students will be eligible to compete with the varsity. Wisconsin, only Big Ten school to maintain an intercollegiate boxing team, also was given permission to use freshmen in that sport at once.

Assures Full Season

The change in the rule which has stood, with one brief exception in 1918, since 1904 means that freshmen and service men will be available for football next fall, thus virtually assuring the conference of a full grid season.

In greeting warmly the Navy department's announcement that its service men assigned to colleges for training would be allowed to play with varsity sports teams provided time schedules permitted, the conference said that "all eligibility rules shall be waived with respect to any member of the armed forces of the United States the major portion of whose instruction comes from members of the institution's faculty."

Notre Dame, although not represented at the meeting, is expected to follow the big ten lead shortly.

Mt. Lebanon Stars Termed Ineligible

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 (AP)—Mt. Lebanon high school was eliminated from the WPAL basketball championship race when the league decisions committee yesterday ordered its Section 8 victories cancelled because of the use of two ineligible players. The ruling made Brentwood the sectional winner. The two teams had been tied with 11 victories each in 13 games.

The ineligible Mt. Lebanon players were Dick and Bob Andres, twins. The boys attended only seven elementary grades at Kansas City, instead of eight as required in Pennsylvania, and this knocked out their final year of high school basketball. Mt. Lebanon officials themselves had raised the question of eligibility.

4 CARS DEMOLISHED

Pittsburgh, Feb. 22 (AP)—Four cars were demolished when a locomotive hauling a Pitcairn-Oil City freight train ramed into the rear end of a stopped freight yesterday in the Coleman yards of the Pennsylvania railroad's Conemaugh division.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Feb. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt's address tonight on all networks, beginning at 10:30, not only will be directed to the American people and George Washington Day dinners in all parts of the country, but will be distributed widely by short wave. Besides simultaneous shortwaving, including translation into Spanish and Portuguese for Latin-America transmissions in various languages will be continued into Tuesday. These will include German, Italian and French.
